Employers search for “experienced” workers

Attend the Metro-Denver Regional Job Fair for the mature worker Sept. 15

Greenwood Village, Colo. --- On Sept. 15, the Arapahoe/Douglas Works! 50+ & Fabulous Resource Center will partner with the Workforce Board of Metro Denver and Metro Denver Wired to host a Metro Denver Regional Job Fair for mature job seekers (adults ages 50 and older) from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Red Lion Hotel, 3200 S. Parker Road, Aurora, 80014.

More than 50 employers from industries including aerospace, homeland security, bioscience and healthcare, information technology, financial services, hospitality, retail and government entities will be searching to fill entry-level to executive jobs with the “experienced” worker.

“Employers understand that the mature worker brings experience, maturity and a strong work ethic to the table,” said Joe Barela, Division Manager for A/D Works! “Attendance at the job fair by both jobseekers and employers increases each year demonstrating the need and desire for this population to continue to grow and maintain their career.”

Last year, more than 1,000 jobseekers attended the event and this year it promises to be at least 1,500. To avoid waiting in the registration line, job seekers are strongly encouraged to register with the workforce center in advance at www.connectingcolorado.com.

The Arapahoe/Douglas Works! 50+ & Fabulous Resource Center, located in Greenwood Village, is a full-service center for the mature job seeker. Their unique center offers a wide array of workshops, employer presentations, one-on-one assistance, a resource library, and other services that cater to a mature worker’s specific needs as they enter encore careers.
